The IGB Library

Research for the future of our freshwaters

About us

The Library of the Leibniz-Institute of Freshwater Ecology and Inland Fisheries (IGB) is a reference library providing academic information mainly on the following subjects:

- limnology
- ecohydrology
- geohydrology
- fisheries sciences
- water resources management

Our collection and our services are focussed on the academic needs of the IGB and its members. The work of the Library is supported by the Library Board (Bibliothekskommission).

The Library has two locations: the main one is located in Berlin Friedrichshagen and a smaller satellite library is in Neuglobsow. We organize the loan of media from both locations.

If you have any questions, go ahead and ask us! We're here to support your research.

Library Resources

Printed resources

- About 48,000 catalogued items: mainly books, periodicals, reprints, and research reports
- Historical collections and archival material of the IGB's former institutions
- Special collections, such as the „Ditton-Library": resources on the social and economic value of recreational fishing

Electronic resources

- More than 4,400 publications by IGB scientists in full-text (ongoing)
- Licenses for full-text articles with Wiley, Elsevier, Springer, JSTOR, Nature, BioOne, and Oxford
- Bibliographic database Web of Science
- Approx. 4,000 journals of all disciplines (available through EZB search interface)
- Access to journal archives with over 8,200 titles
- Access to over 5,600 ebooks
- Online reference works (Encyclopedia of Inland Waters, Treatise on Water Science)

Using the Library

All our holdings can be found online in our catalogue: www.igb-berlin.de/katalog
A guide to finding resources is available on our intranet site:
http://intranet.igb-berlin.de/bibliothek.html

Books and other Library items are non-circulating and the Library is open to external visitors upon request. IGB members with a Library account can use the Library 24/7 and are entitled to check out items for use in the building. You may log in to your Library account to view your checked-out items and their due dates at any time.

Please note the General Library Rules and Regulations, available on our website and in the Library.

Services

Scholarly publishing at the IGB

The Library takes care of the institutional bibliography of the IGB. Browse all IGB publications in our catalogue or on the IGB website: http://igb-berlin.de/en/publications.

Can't find what you need?

If the material you need for your studies is not in our collection, we'll try to get it for you. Get in touch with us via email: bib@igb-berlin.de.

Useful Information

Overhead book scanner

The Library provides free access to a scanner (color scans up to A3).

Reading room

For quiet reading with comfortable seating or group discussions we offer a reading room. For reservations please contact us: bib@igb-berlin.de.

VPN-Client (Off-Campus Access)

Access from outside the IGB IP area to the licensed e-resources provided by the Library is possible using a VPN client. Note that this service is only available for IGB members with a minimum stay of 6 months at the IGB.
